Some Comment on Government Ownership of Telephone Properties (Classic Reprint) (Paperback)

By Frank Hopkins Bethell

Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****. Excerpt from Some Comment on Government Ownership of Telephone Properties The postal service - the service that is pointed to as the evidence to prove the governments ability to handle the wire service - is, I believe, efficient (some do not agree with me), but what is Postal Service? The Post Office performs but a very small part in the country s mail service. The transportation of the mails is in so great a measure handled by the railroads and steamship companies as to render all other mediums almost if not quite, negligible. In many communities the citizen must go to the post office both to send and receive his mail. The postmaster does little more in getting mail to and from his office than does the messenger boy in collecting or delivering telegrams. The Post Office Department does not own even the post office buildings it occupies; the mail cars belong to the railroads; the pneumatic tubes, in cities like New York, and even the mail wagons, are owned and operated by private companies. The Post...
