Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Report of the Royal Commission on Historical Manuscripts, 1877, Vol. 1 In Ireland. - The Marquis of Ormonde. Among the collections of which the examination is still in progress may be named those of the Duke of Manchester, the Duke of Marlborough, the Marquis of Salisbury, the Earl of Egmont, and Mr. G. H. Finch, M.P. Other noblemen and gentlemen have expressed their willingness to submit their muniments to Your Commissioners inspection. We append a brief account of some of the chief collections examined since the issue of our last Report; full particulars of these will be found in the Appendix. The Home of Lords. - The calendar of the manuscripts in the House of Lords has been carried up to the end of the year 1647, in the Appendix to the present Report, and Mr. Monro and Mr. Thoms report to Your Commissioners that, in addition to the portion printed, they have completed the calendar up to the time of the Restoration, and that all papers up to the year 1800 have now been dated and arranged. Amongst other papers of an earlier date than those in the present calendar, which have been quite recently discovered, must especially be mentioned a manuscript journal of the proceedings in the House of Commons from the 21st of June to the 5th of July 1625. This document is especially interesting as it fills up a hiatus in the journals of the House of Commons. In the printed journal, after the 22nd of June 1625, is this note: Here is a blank in the journal, left probably for the entry of the proceedings of the House in the...
