Excerpt: .in their calling; the latter was a botanic practitioner. And here Mr. Stratton should not be forgotten, who had been familiar with malarial diseases and fevers for many years, and had been employed three months, in a hospital in the war of 1812. This gentlemen administered medicine whenever called upon, and exhausted the supply he had brought from Missouri. He was himself attacked by a bad form of bilious fever. Being out of medicine, and having some doubts of the skill of the other practitioners, he sent for a doctor from Davis County, whose treatment, he says, nearly killed him. Mr. Stratton relates that a year or two after Centerville had started, he saw the four doctors named above talking together on the public square, one of whom beckoned to him to join them. He went to them, when one of the number remarked that there was a good deal of sickness prevailing, and asked his opinion as to the best methods of treatment. Divining their evident intention to have some fun at his expense, he said that he made no pretensions to medical skill, but could add that there was not knowledge enough on the subject there present to furnish a first-class quack. This put an effectual damper on the interview, for every one of the other doctors took his speech as an affront. It is said that Dr. Pewther was once summoned in haste to attend a case a few miles west...
